

WE'RE RECRUITING

Make an impact - come and join us!

We are a leading legal firm in North Wales and Cheshire providing advice on a broad range of legal issues, both business and personal.

With fourteen directors currently, and more than eighty staff members across three offices in North Wales and Cheshire, our long-standing ethos supports and develops talented solicitors to ensure they are expert leaders in their specialist legal fields.

We aim to provide an environment that is progressive, inclusive, supportive and rewarding that delivers great legal advice and service.

We provide the chance to work with knowledgeable professionals and lawyers; to be involved in cases that are noteworthy in terms of scope, complexity, and creativity; and to be a part of a firm that is dedicated to making an impact on our clients' lives.

Working at Allington Hughes Law

ENVIRONMENT

Our workplace reflects our commitment to an enlightened way of working with clients and team members, our goal is to provide a workspace in which we can collaborate with plenty of opportunity for progression.

INCLUSION, DIVERSITY, AND EQUALITY

We choose to work with you based on the things you can bring to our culture and your professional abilities, where you will be appreciated, valued and encouraged while working with us.

HYBRID FLEXIBLE WORKING

At Allington Hughes Law we want to help our colleagues find the right work-life balance to suit their own personal needs-our policy of hybrid flexible working alongside an active encouragement to switch off and enjoy downtime is paramount. Needless to say, our "Friday early finish" really helps!

SALARY AND BENEFITS PACKAGE

We provide an attractive salary and benefits package, which includes:

- Simply Health Package
- Company Pension Scheme

DRESS CODE

It is important that all team members feel empowered and engaged at work. As well as encouraging hybrid flexible working, we also want our colleagues to feel comfortable and able to do their best work in the office environment, to do this we offer the option of a relaxed dress code, as well as dress-down days.

HEALTH AND WELLBEING

We know that health is an inside job, and with that in mind, we encourage our team members to take advantage of the health and wellbeing activities on offer. From exercise classes to regular wellbeing seminars, or just taking time out to have a hot drink and a chat with one of our mental health awareness ambassadors, we want to support the whole of you.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Rugby days, theatre evenings, local charity events – with our partnerships in the local community you will find an outlet that suits you in our busy social calendar.
